machinery used for printing. The major content of the book are Principles of Printing - Wikipedia. The invention of the book printing process by Johannes Gutenberg in the middle of the 15th century is considered the birth of modern printing technology.